Capoforte SX 200

Functionality and Fun

SX 200: an admirable synthesis of functionality and fun. The portions of deck, forward and aft, can both be set up as a sundeck or as a living room, with the possibility of differentiating the usage or configuring them as a single large environment; this happens thanks to an unprecedented layout which, with the decentralized wheelhouse, creates a comfortable and direct connection between front and rear. The storage spaces, much larger than the average for this category of boats, add further practicality of use to a craft that, due to its style, exclusive finishings and performance, does not forget its sportive vocation.
